COMEBACK QUEEN

Terrazzo brings warmth, frivolity, and a touch of nostalgia into your home for an interior with spirit and charisma.

Terrazzo is the interior trend of the moment. After it appeared in almost every home in the 1980s, this material is making a strong comeback. Although we used to see terrazzo mainly as a floor, today, the typical speckled pattern also appears in wall cladding, stairs, fireplaces, and other decorative elements, such as tables and vases.

We're enthusiastically riding this trend. In fact, the new designs and colours of our Terrazzo collections set the trend.

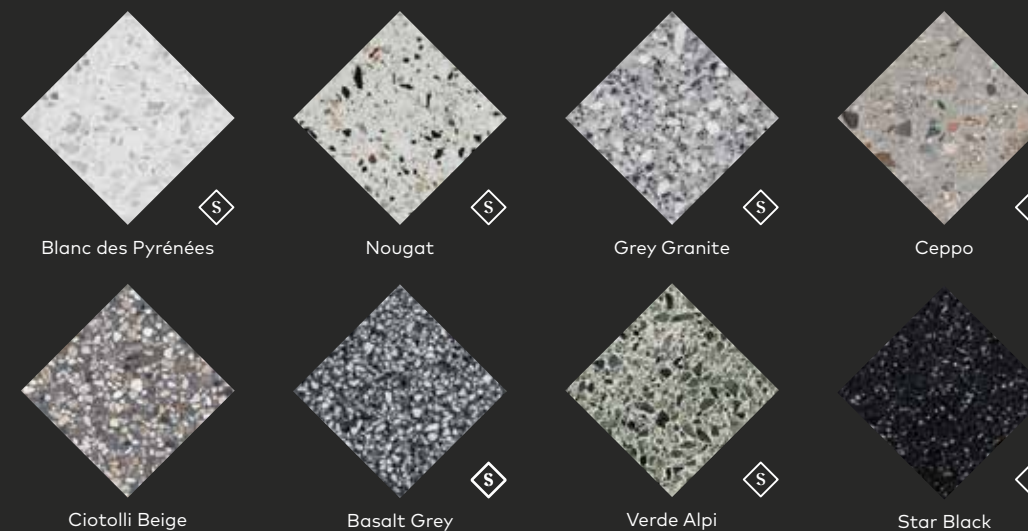

To what does this 'marble mosaic' owe its popularity? The combination of the many shades of colour and the speckled appearance. What's more, this trendy material is also strong and impact-resistant.

Choose the design that suits you

Terrazzo exists in an endless variety of shapes and colours. A unique look is created each time based on the added pigments and the size and shape of the marble granules. The 11 different variants of our Terrazzo collection offer something for everyone: from inconspicuous, small speckles to busy, more pronounced patterns.

The Terrazzo collection includes both slabs and tiles, each with a honed finish. The slabs are 305 by 125 cm and have a thickness of 2 to 3 cm.

The standard tiles (indicated by ) are available in a honed finish in the sizes 40 x 40 cm, 60 x 40 cm, and 60 x 60 cm (thickness 2 cm). Terrazzo slabs can also be used to cut tiles to size. These tiles are offered through Brachot Family Member Beltrami.

Variety of uses

Finishing

All Terrazzo slabs and tiles are available in a honed finish as standard. Other surface finishes are also possible upon request.

Honed

The surface is scoured until it has a smooth, matt appearance. The grain size during sanding determines the final result.

Trendier than ever and maintenance-friendly

With Terrazzo, you get a creative material that is not only contemporary and trendy but also very durable. Terrazzo is a composite material consisting of recycled marble grains and marble sand to which cement binder and colour pigment are added. In addition, Terrazzo is also strong, impact-resistant, and has low water absorption, which makes it perfect for floors, stairs, fireplaces, and as wall cladding and decoration. However, Terrazzo cannot be used outside.

Terrazzo is also very maintenance-friendly. With a minimum of effort and the right maintenance products, you can keep your Terrazzo in top condition for a very long time. We are happy to give you advice and tips for durable results, from initial cleaning to daily maintenance.
